

GME Program Coordinator Excellence Award

The GME Program Coordinator Excellence Award honors and recognizes the crucial role that program coordinators play in the success of a residency/fellowship program. The ACGME congratulates the recipients of the 2017 GME Program Coordinator Excellence Award.

Terri Trotter
Ophthalmology
Emory University School of Medicine
Atlanta, GA

Nominators had this to say:

“With the support of four of her fellow Ophthalmology Coordinators, Terri founded the National Ophthalmology Program Coordinators Group four years ago. With her natural leadership ability and delightful personality, Terri is a highly sought after speaker and was asked to give talks at the last two national meetings. Terri has established a wonderful reputation at the national level and has acquired so much knowledge and experience in everything from the competencies, handbooks, the ‘challenging resident,’ goals and objectives, evaluations, ACGME accreditation, etc., that she is called upon by program coordinators and program directors throughout the country for help with any number of questions or concerns.”

“In addition to being on the AOPMC Executive Council and the 2013-2015 Annual Meeting Planning Committees, Ms. Trotter plays an active role in the meetings. At the past four annual meetings, she has presented three times. She was invited by the Program Director Council to be guest lecturer at the 2015 Annual Association of University Professors in Ophthalmology (AUPO).”
